Many looked and saw no life, some even saw death. But you looked and saw potential and life. Many prognosticated failure, some destruction. But the wonderful gift in you joyfully shouted success and renewal. As you focus on the gift of your vision, you will see the dream come to life. You will eat of success's fruit. Many will be amazed, some will scoff and say they could have done that, had they cared to.

The best builders are ready to defend themselves from the many, if needed, all the while continuing to build. Even if it means one hand is building while the other is holding off the naysayers. You are one who can dig down deep and look for (and find) what is needed whether it be joy or hope or strength or... you dig and you find. You refuse to give up. You are tenacious and creative. You're passionate about progress. Your momentum and stable depth both inspire and ground those around you.

When the winds come, your deep roots keep you steady. Just as redwood trees gain strength by intertwining their roots with other nearby trees, so you gain strength by interconnecting with your support system and in doing so both are supported and provide support. Your strength is in your roots.

We hope the art and the colorful encouragement speak to you. Enjoy life and stay in the flow!
