Be filled with awe. Lose yourself in the beauty of the universe. Resist the temptation to be bogged down by the worries and troubles of daily life. No matter how large your cares may seem to loom – one look at the night sky quickly reminds us how small we are in the scheme of things.

And yet, each of us has far more impact than we understand. Like a pebble tossed into a pond, its size small and seemingly unimportant but the ripples go on and on. So be caught up in the awe of the universe, all the while embracing your place within it. By allowing yourself to ponder the expansive nature of existence, you open your mind to the realm of possibility; suddenly the narrow window of “impossible” melts away.

Merriam-Webster Dictionary defines the word “awe” as “a strong feeling of fear [reverence] or respect and also wonder.” When was the last time you truly paused to be caught up in a sense of overwhelming astonishment and reverential amazement at something? How beautiful would our perspective of life be if we were intentional to do that daily?

Consider challenging yourself to live a life of awe. Challenge yourself to see the beautiful intricacies in the world around you (and in yourself). Recognize the glory of the world and allow that wonder to cultivate a sense of gratitude and hope in your heart that is life-changing. Truly the possibilities are endless.

We hope the art and the colorful encouragement speak to you. Enjoy life and stay in the flow!
